Guest Lecture-25th November, 2025

In view of International Pathology Day (5th November 2025), the Department of Pathology has conducted an Online Guest Lecture for 2nd year MBBS students on the topic "Opportunities for Medical Students Abroad", on 25th November 2025, between 2:00 to 3:00 pm. It was engaged by the eminent speaker, Dr. Maitreyee Roy (Professor, Maharishi Markandeshwar Institute of Medical Sciences, Mullana, Ambala Haryana), in Lecture Hall 1. Her rich experience and global exposure in the field of medicine provided our students with valuable insights into the diverse career avenues and academic prospects available internationally. This session aimed at broadening their horizons, motivated them to set global standards and prepared them for future challenges in the field of healthcare. The Guest lecture was attended by 140 students in the class.

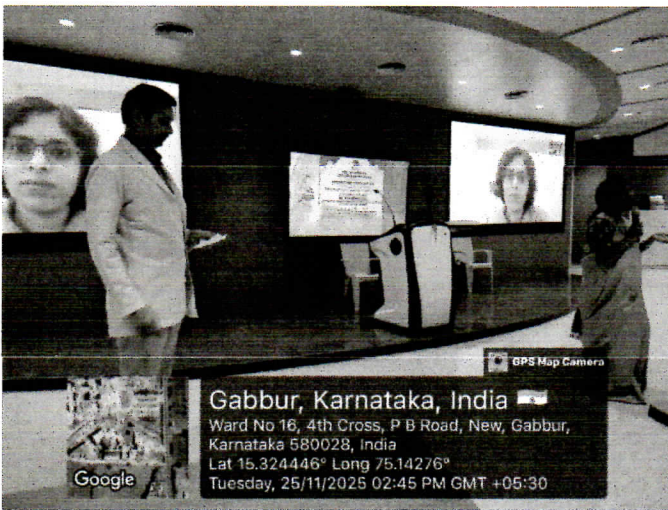

The Session started with briefing of International Pathology Day by Dr Priyanka M. It was followed by Introduction of the Speaker by Dr Ganga S Pilli (Professor and HOD). The Speaker highlighted various exams (USMLE, PLAB, AMC Exam, TOEFL, etc) in many different countries (USA, UK, Australia and Middle East). She also shared the comparative analysis of different exam patterns. The lecture was concluded with vote of thanks by Dr Nagaraj.

We thank our Chief patron and Chancellor Dr Prabhakar Kore, Vice chancellor Dr N S Mahantshetti, Registrar Dr V M Pattanshetty, Director Hospital Development and New Projects Dr V D Patil for giving us opportunity to conduct the event. We thank our Principal Dr Sharada Metgud for constant support and express our gratitude to Director, General Administration and Clinical Services, Dr M G Hiremath. We are also grateful to all the HODs and faculties for encouraging students and making the event a memorable one. We also thank the IT team for their services and all the Non-Teaching staff for their support.
